PRIVACY POLICY

End of Life Washington places a high priority on protecting your privacy. This privacy policy was created in order to demonstrate End of Life Washington's commitment to the privacy of our website users. This policy explains what types of information is collected by End of Life Washington's website and how this information is used.

What Personally Identifiable Information is Collected

Individuals who sign up to receive End of Life Washington communications voluntarily provide us with contact information (such as name and e-mail address). You may always "opt out," either now or at any time in the future, if you do not wish to receive our messages.

Names and Addresses

We do not provide, sell, or rent names, addresses, or email addresses to anyone outside the organization.

Email

We send occasional emails, 6-8 times per year, containing news, information and announcements to those who have signed up to be on our mailing list. Every email from End of Life Washington contains an option for the user to unsubscribe.

Cookies

A cookie is a piece of data stored on the user's hard drive containing information about the user. We use cookies to store your login information on your computer. You can access much of our site without cookies, but there are some areas such as profile submission or project information that require cookies. However, we do not use cookies to track your browsing history or match it with your identity for any purpose such as market research or advertising.

Log Files

We use IP addresses to analyze trends, administer the site and gather broad demographic information for aggregate use. IP addresses are not linked to personally identifiable information.

Security

This website takes every precaution to protect our users' information. This web site does not collect sensitive information such as credit card numbers or social security numbers.

Links

This web site contains links to other sites. Please be aware that End of Life Washington is not responsible for the privacy practices of such other sites. We encourage our users to be aware when they leave our site and to read the privacy statements of each and every web site that collects personally identifiable information. This privacy statement applies solely to information collected by this website.

Notification of Changes

If we decide to change our privacy policy, we will post those changes on this page so our users are always aware of what information we collect, how we use it, and under circumstances, if any, we disclose it.
